

Spotlight on Good Works at Camosun College and Capilano College

Camosun College School of Business Awards 2005

Each year, the Notary Foundation of BC presents an award for academic excellence and demonstrated leadership ability to students of the Legal Office Assistant Program at Camosun College.

Shelby Affleck and Tegan Munro each received the award at Camosun's annual ceremony on December 2005. They were two of 69 School of Business students honoured for outstanding achievement in areas of study from golf management to accounting.

Camosun College Award Winners Shelby Affleck (left) and Tegan Munro (right) with Notary Foundation Chair Leta Best

Capilano College Students Thank the Notary Foundation of BC

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Notary Foundation of BC. As a full-time student at Capilano College, I find it difficult to maintain part-time employment while keeping up with the high demands of the Paralegal Diploma Program. When I applied to this program, I knew I would have to make sacrifices to obtain a promising education and graduate with honours. This intense two-year program consists of 12 courses per year. It is designed to provide students with career training so we may enter the workforce with confidence and legal knowledge.

The program requires hard work and endless hours of studying in various areas of law. Capilano College sets a high bar for students to maintain a minimum 3.0 grade point average to graduate.

After graduation, I plan to obtain full-time employment as a paralegal to gain work experience in the field of law. In the future, I am determined to continue my education and one day graduate from law school with honours.

This award will be applied to my tuition for third semester, making the costs of my education more affordable. Thank you for this generous award.

Sincerely,
Jamie Teperto

Capilano College Scholarship winners Jamie Teperto (left) and Lynne Slessor

Thank you for the scholarship I received in the Fall 2005 term. Your generosity is greatly appreciated. I plan to put the award toward my tuition fees for my final term.

I am currently enrolled in the full-time Paralegal Diploma Program at Capilano College and plan to do my six-month practicum in a downtown Vancouver law firm upon completing my course work in Spring 2006.

Sincerely,
Lynne Slessor