

BC Notaries Are Respected in Their Communities.

What Does it Take to Become a BC Notary Public?

- Strong entrepreneurial and people skills
- The highest degree of honesty and integrity
- University degree and 5 years' related experience
- Fluency in English; other languages an asset
- Financial backing
- Dedication to serving the public

Those are the characteristics of a BC Notary Public.

There are business opportunities for Notaries in various communities throughout British Columbia.

As a BC Notary, you will have the opportunity to enjoy a rewarding career as an independent businessperson who serves the public, and sets the example of integrity and trust for which Notaries are known throughout the world.

If you have the qualities noted above, and are looking for a new career path, consider our Master of Arts in Applied Legal Studies (MAALS) program for BC Notaries, conducted through Simon Fraser University.
