

Real Estate Institute of British Columbia Appoints New Executive Officer

The Real Estate Institute of British Columbia (REIBC) is pleased to welcome Debra Hauptman as its new Executive Officer.

REIBC President Allan Corbett says, "Debra's depth of experience will be a tremendous asset to the institute. She has established an outstanding record of successful leadership and brings with her a unique combination of personal attributes and professional skills that will be fundamental in achieving the institute's key strategic goals."

Hauptman says she is tremendously excited to have the opportunity to lead such a dynamic organization. "I look forward to the challenge of accelerating the institute's momentum through British Columbia's active real estate market. I am committed to building on the institute's services to its members and strengthening its strategic partnerships."

Hauptman has extensive experience as a management professional in non-profit and for-profit organizations in the areas of business and organizational development, human resources management, and strategic planning.

Debra Hauptman

In her previous role as an Executive Director of SRS Vocational Services Society, Debra was responsible for the leadership and general management of two distinct regional operations, a B2B packaging services company and an employment services agency tailored for individuals with disabilities.

Debra's depth of experience will be a tremendous asset to the institute. She has established an outstanding record of successful leadership...

During her involvement with SRS, the organization experienced significant growth and developed an excellent reputation for its high standard of service quality.

As a business leader in Surrey, Debra is recognized for her role in implementing and developing a business improvement association in Surrey City Centre. The Whalley Business Improvement Association has worked directly with all levels of government to improve economic conditions and revitalize Surrey's growing City Centre. Debra has served as Vice President on the association's Board of Directors for the past 6 years and is Chair of the Government and Community Relations Committee.

REIBC is an organization of diversified professionals whose mission is to advance the highest standards of education, knowledge, professional development, and business practice in all sectors of the real estate industry. ▲
