

Letters

Fall Issue, October 2004    INSIDE: FIRST PEOPLES

Let me compliment you on your quarterly Scrivener magazine. I am impressed with the quality and variety of the articles, many of which would be of interest to our staff. If possible, I am interested to secure a subscription so we can circulate this magazine amongst our staff. Thanks for your consideration.

*Ron Creber, Manager, Land and Water
LWBC, Vancouver Island Service Centre*

There's a lot of interesting reading in the First Peoples edition of The Scrivener. I haven't managed to get through it all yet, but I will. Just got back from another trip to the Charlottes and had the pleasure of revisiting Anthony Isle (Ninstints). We were there almost 10 years ago. I was amazed at how little change there has been in the condition of the poles in that time.

*Mike Weld
Maple Bay*

The theme for the Fall issue of The Scrivener, First Peoples, was outstanding, informative, and valuable. I am honoured to have been a part of your special issue. I especially appreciated the inclusion of the recipe from the Hamatla Treaty Society, as it brought the theme full circle. The layout and the depth of articles made this a truly memorable Issue.

*Ann Coombs, Thought Leader
Vancouver*